REASONS TO CONSIDER

Building Blocks of Big Data

HBGD provides exposure to global companies directly involved in data development, storage, and management-related services, as well as hardware used in data-intensive applications such as blockchain, offering investors access to the growing field of big data technology.

Structural Headwinds

According to Statista, the big data analytics market is expected to surpass US$103 billion in revenue by 2027. Central to this industry growth are hardware and data servicing companies that provide key infrastructure for the development of data-intensive technologies.

Exclusion of Cryptocurrency

While HBGD may include cryptocurrency-related companies, it does not directly hold cryptocurrencies like bitcoin or engage in cryptocurrency mining, potentially reducing exposure to the volatility associated with these assets.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

HBGD seeks to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of the Solactive Big Data & Hardware Index, net of expenses. The Solactive Big Data and Hardware Index tracks a portfolio of global companies focusing directly on data development, storage, and management-related services and solutions as well as hardware and hardware-related services used in data-intensive applications such as blockchain.

The indicated rates of return are the historical annual compounded total returns, including changes in unit/share value and reinvestment of all distributions, and do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges, or income taxes payable by any securityholder that would have reduced returns. Additionally, index returns do not take into account management, operating, or trading expenses. The rates of return above are not indicative of future returns. Investment funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently, and past performance may not be repeated. The indices are not directly investible. Only the returns for periods of one year or greater are annualized returns.

DEFINITIONS

Annualized Distribution Yield: The most recent regular distribution (excluding additional year end distributions) annualized for frequency, divided by current NAV.

Management Expense Ratio: Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses, including sales tax, (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period for each ETF and is expressed as an annualized percentage of each ETF's daily average net asset value during the period. Out of its management fees, the Manager pays for such services to the ETF as investment manager compensation, service fees and marketing.

Net Assets: The value of all assets, less the value of all liabilities, at a particular point in time. (Includes all classes of this ETF.)

Risk Rating: Risk Rating is based on how much the ETF's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the ETF will be in the future. The rating can change overtime. An ETF with a low risk rating can still lose money.

12-Month Trailing Yield: The yield an investor would have received if they had held the ETF over the last twelve months stated as a percentage of the net asset value per unit on the last business day of the most recent month-end.
